I Needed the Quiet
I needed the quiet so He drew me aside
Into the shadows where we could confide
Away from the bustle where all the day long
I hurried and worried when active and strong
I needed the quiet tho at first I rebelled
But gently, so gently, my cross He upheld
And whispered so sweetly of spiritual things
Tho weakened in body, my spirit took wings
To heights never dreamed of when active and gay
He loved me so greatly He drew me away
I needed the quiet. No prison my bed
But a beautiful valley of blessings instead
A place to grow richer in Jesus to hide
I needed the quiet so He drew me aside
Gone but not forgotten.
Love always,

"CUEVAS" QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It always does me good to get away for a few days from the everyday pace with a vacation.

Last week Jane and I were able to join several of our friends on a Hancock Bank Classic cruise on the M/V Gruziya out of Gulfport. Travel Affiliates handled the reservations.

The Ukrainian vessel is scheduled to sail next Sunday out of Gulfport for one week and then move on to Canada for the summer. Hopefully it will return to the Port of Gulfport in October.

The cruise lasted seven days, and we visited ports of Puerto Cortes, Honduras; Belize City, Belize; and Playa del Carmen and Cosmel, Mexico.

The M/V Gruziya has a crew of more than 250, and we had only a few over 200 passengers on our cruise. The service was tremendous.

I guess some of you heard about the recent meeting with state and local tourism officials about the possibility of the M/V Gruziya not returning in October.

There is hope for enough passengers from the area making reservations for the Gruziya when it is scheduled to return in October.

This was my 11th cruise, and I want to emphasize it was the cleanest and easiest ship I ever boarded.

We traveled with Harold and Alice Masson of Waveland, as we have done several times before.

Things were rather lively at our table as it included the four of us along with Lil and Bill Goldman of Bay St. Louis.

There were several folks from Diamondhead in our Classic Club group of 44 as well.

It was only a 15-minute drive from home. We dropped off our luggage, which was taken aboard the ship as Harold parked his car in a parking lot several hundred feet from the terminal. He was returned to the terminal via a van, as we were already checked in with our passes.

The whole time from arrival to our cabin could not have been more than ten minutes, more like five.

Within 25 minutes from my house we were in our cabins on the ship. There was no hassle, waiting in line, having this or that checked, everything was ready when we checked in with our tickets.

It was a bit hot in the three countries we visited, around 100 degrees, and air conditioning on the ship felt real good after traveling about on tours.

On Belize I got to see the Mayan ruins of Altun Ha. The site was excavated during the 1960's. It is the site of the largest jade item ever found in the Mayan world.

It is in the middle of a rain forest and was hot and dry.

One of the things I noted was our guide would collect the smallest pieces of litter, as the Mayans are very proud of their heritage and concerned about the environment.

In Honduras I visited a private beach resort and enjoyed some real cool breezes, fresh barbecue and local music.

I even tried my hand at making tortillas and helped pull in a 600-foot net, while others tried to milk a cow.

As always, the highlight of the trip for Jane was shopping. I guess it is just a woman's nature to shop.

Anyway, Jane had a field day shopping at Cancun City. I have to admit, I would have liked to have had a bit more time, especially in the large marketplace.

I cannot wait until I take my next cruise, as it is the real way to vacation.

Don't forget the Big Flag Day 95 Program Saturday, 10 a.m. at the Hancock County Walking Track in front of Hancock Medical Center.

One of the flag bearers will be Timothy J. York, a great-great-nephew of Sgt. Alvin C. York.

As some of us old-timers recall, Sgt. York continues to be held in high acclaim as a result of his heroic deeds during World War I.

Timothy York has attended annual York family reunions held at Sergeant York's home in Pall Mall, Tenn.

Gene Schloegel, organizer of the Flag Day 95 Program, is all smiles because of the numerous organizations and groups from across the state who will take part in the Bay St. Louis ceremony.

Take time Saturday to view and take part in the big Flag Day celebration.

Subscriber says 'no parking' could mean private or public

Dear Editor:

A recent writer was moved to complain that his or her favorite parking place on the beach has a "no parking" sign. Public land along Beach Boulevard is just that — public.

If it has been marked "no parking," then perhaps it is private property, or has been designated by authorities as creating a safety problem.

The letter also contained a comment that "when the residents moved on the beach, they knew people would be parking and partying on the beach."

One certainly concedes a certain amount of privacy infringement as a necessary consequence of living on Beach Boulevard; however, having rude people parking in our driveways or on our lawns, throwing trash on our lawns and playing inufferable music at mind-numbing volume is not a necessary endurance.

Also, some homes along Beach Boulevard have been in the same families 50 to 100 years. I doubt they ever expected such affronts as those to which they are now subjected.

Most visitors are unaware that the beach lots east of the seawall are owned by the people whose homes they front. When federal money was used to pump a sand beach onto the property, some rights were taken from the property owners, such as their right to enclose the lots or restrict free movement across them, but nevertheless, they still own the property and they pay taxes on it.

But there was one amusing note in the letter — "We can't forget tourism. If the people have no place to park."

The title "tourists" does not apply very well to people who drive over for the day from Louisiana (check the car tags) since they fill their automobiles with gas before they leave home, they bring their food with them, they drive here in the passing lane.

They leave their trash on the beaches or our lawns, and they drive back home in the passing lane. We can likely do without this largess.

Most of us have strong Louisiana connections, both families and friends. With them, as with anyone visiting our area, considerate guests are always welcome.

Nearly sincerely,
Charles H. Gray

Rumor of dump being sold concerns resident

To the Editor:

I am writing about a rumor I heard last weekend when my wife and I went to the county landfill to dispose of some water-damaged carpet and scrap sheetrock from high waters.

The rumor was that the county was getting ready to turn over our landfill to a large out-of-state company so they can make a profit charging for dumping waste of all kinds.

Now the landfill is just for residents, trash only, and Boudin's take our garbage to Harrison County at a cheap rate. If we sell our landfill it will cost us to dispose of everything sooner or later. This company will be taking waste from wherever they can to make a dollar.

The more people I talk to about this, the more I realize it is pretty secretive and probably not 100 percent legal. We need to look at what they will be hauling into our county — such as asbestos waste, contaminated soils from chemical plants and fuel spills, hazardous waste, medical waste and no telling what else mixed in with house garbage.

This is not only a devastating thing to be doing here, but a dangerous situation on our highways with 18-wheelers coming in with whatever. I wonder how much will be leaking into our water system or getting into our seafood and wildlife.

Why isn't this issue voted on? Is our existence as important as the "fish versus the gill net" issue? Why not have public meetings? Is someone getting their pockets lined?

We already have casino money coming in, do we want to be known as the Waste County of the South? What really makes me sad is to think that we are willing to sacrifice our environment for a little cash. I could think of a lot better ways to make money.

I hope there are more people in this county who feel like I do and are willing to let their elected officials know. But most of all, I hope that what I heard was "just a rumor."

State needs to revise vehicular licensing laws

Dear Editor:

In my opinion, the absence of certain appropriate laws relating to driving and vehicular licensing and the lax enforcement of existing laws in the state of Mississippi is contributing to driving danger rather than minimizing it. The following requirements of other less archaic states should be considered for adoption:

1. All car owners should be required to carry minimum insurance coverage. Proof of insurance should be required at the time of registration and at tag renewal, kept in the car at all times, and produced upon demand by law enforcement and at the time of an accident.

2. All vehicles should be required to undergo a detailed annual inspection. This would begin with enforcement of the current requirements. Really dangerous vehicles that I encounter every day have cracked windshields, vision-blocking window decals, bald tires, worn-out breaks, no bumpers, dangerous body damage, illegal emission and only one eye.

3. All vehicles should have and display a license tag — lighted at night — even trucks.

4. Drivers who refuse to use turn signals or who slide through right hand turns and stop signs should be ticketed.

5. All drivers should be required to undergo periodic retesting to renew their operator's license. This testing should include minimum physical, vision, knowledge of laws and road test. There are thousands of unfit drivers on our roads who endanger themselves and the lives of others.

6. Upon the second DUI conviction, offenders should be required to install breathalyzer ignition interlock devices in their vehicles.

7. While we are at it, driver's license privileges should be suspended for deadbeat parents and restored when child support payments are current.

On the beach

Dear Editor:

The beachfront in Waveland is a residential community, not a commercial zone.

The houses on the beachfront are "on the beach." There is no buffer zone between the residences and the sand on the beach except for Beach Boulevard.

Only a few hundred feet separate the sandy beach and homes where we cook our meals, work on our houses and cars and contribute to the economy of Waveland by buying everyday household items whether we are there 100 days of the year or 365.

We pay school taxes, even though we have no children in school and property taxes whether we are part-time or full-time residents.

We have a vested interest in the city and for anyone to think that we are selfish and self-serving is an insult.

We are not just passing through like tourists on their way to somewhere else and need a cool drink or fast meal.

The $300,000 parking lot that the county has planned will have no pilings or any type of anchor to secure it to the beach.

It is irresponsible to spend all that money for a temporary parking lot that is going to crack, seep asphalt and endanger lives and property when a serious storm comes along and propels thousands of pounds of asphalt directly at all the people (whether tourists or homeowners) and homes on Beach Boulevard.

Tourist attractions and large parking lots belong in commercially zoned areas, not in a residential community.

It will not be an asset, but a liability and eyesore when the tourists are touring and the residents are residing in the aftermath of a hurricane like Camille.

Reader says law creating research lab needs changing

To the Editor:

The state law creating and establishing the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory needs to be changed. The laboratory needs to be combined with the University of Southern Mississippi by a change in the laws. This will allow the president of USM to have true control over this laboratory, because he will then control the budget.

The present law requires a separate annual appropriation for the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory of about $3 million of state taxpayers' money based on information received from the state legislature.

Combining the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory with USM by statute and thereby combining the now separate appropriations would not only allow better fiscal control, but should also result in a considerable savings to the taxpayers of Mississippi.

One way that a considerable savings could be realized is by

Plans ready for Bayview shoreline

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Preliminary construction plans are ready for a 700-foot Bay St. Louis shoreline protection project.

Officials with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers have designed the project as an emergency effort to save a stretch of Beach Boulevard from what's now almost inevitable collapse.

The project -- in the discussion and debate stage for some two years -- concerns the now unprotected shoreline between the Glindmeyer bulkhead near Bay View Court and the southern edge of the Casino Magic tract at the foot of the Highway 90 bridge.

Residential property owners in the area had once urged city, county and federal help in stopping the dramatic erosion of their bayside properties. With the shoreline disappearing in chunks, public officials became concerned about the integrity of the stretch of North Beach

Boulevard at issue.

Controversy has clouded the solution, however. Some of the seven property owners in the area protested that construction of a new seawall along what's left of the shoreline would mean loss of private ownership of the eroded property line.

As it stands, however, the project design will actually restore some of the lost lands, and leave them in private ownership. State officials plan to declare the publicly-owned property line on the waterside edge of protective structure, which will be placed some 30 to 60 feet off the existing shoreline.

In return, the city has to acquire a 25-year maintenance easement over the newly-constructed area from the affected property owners.

The plan calls for building an interlocking concrete revetment that will cover a new berm at the waterside edge of the project. Granular fill will be placed between the berm and the shoreline, creating a new shoreline that's protected from erosion.

City officials say there will be no public access provided to the newly created property, and they have dropped plans to build a beach on the waterside of the project.

Hancock troopers honored at 1995 awards ceremony

The Mississippi Highway Patrol honored more than 100 outstanding officers at its statewide awards ceremony June 5.

"Nothing makes me happier than recognizing the accomplishments of our officers," said Col. Jimmy Stringer, Highway Patrol director. "Law enforcement is a thankless profession. For that reason I think it is important to honor those who have excelled."

At the ceremony four troopers received the Distinguished Service Award for sound judgment and heroic behavior.

On Nov. 5, Trooper First Class Roy Fullerton, along with three relatively new troopers, Edward A. Hodge, Scott Carnegie and Joe Richardson responded to a shooting incident at Waffle's Restaurant in Hancock County.

When the troopers arrived on the scene, they were fired upon by a man who had been firing at passing motorists. He also had fired into the restaurant with a shotgun.

The troopers were forced to return fire, wounding the suspect. The man attempted to flee while brandishing the shotgun and threatening law enforcement officers. The troopers apprehended the suspect near the rear of the restaurant where he was attempting to reload his shotgun.

"Because of his quick thinking, good judgement and fast action of the troopers involved, only the suspect was wounded," Stringer said. "Their quick assessment and decisive action prevented the suspect from escaping or hurting innocent people."

Other area troopers honored were TFC Edward D. Murtagh of Bay St. Louis for recovering five stolen vehicles, and TFC Roy Fullerton of Pass Christian received recognition for distinguished service.

Pass Christian business honored

Russell's Service Center Inc. of Pass Christian, is Mississippi's top state designee and one of 163 small businesses from around the country honored this year by the three-year-old Blue Chip Enterprise Initiative program. Each year, approximately 200 of the nation's most resilient small businesses are designated Blue Chip Enterprises.

Regional designees are chosen by a group of volunteer judges from business, government and academia, from more than 600 applicants nationwide. Businesses are judged on their management of key resources, including staff, financial, economic and community, to meet challenges that range from changes in the marketplace to advances in technology to natural disasters.

Russell's, as the top state designee, is one of 40 of the most outstanding to be showcased in USA Network's small business morning newscast, "First Business," a half-hour syndication produced by the U.S. Chamber.

Russell's story will also be included in a book entitled Insights and Inspirations: How Businesses Succeed, which highlights lessons learned from Russell's business savvy. The book will be shared with participating Chambers of Commerce and other program participants nationwide.

Ernest Russell and his wife, Alice, co-owners of Russell's Service Center Inc. were convinced they could maintain an old-style gasoline station-auto repair business in the face of pressure to go to self-service pumps, probably linked to a convenience store.

They left a location on a federal highway where they had a two-bay service garage and two pump islands with full- and self-service available. Now they are at a downtown intersection with five repair bays and fewer pumps. Sales have risen 11 percent in the past three years but that doesn't really tell the story.

"Our profit dollars are in the repair part of the business, not gasoline sales," says Ernest Russell, whose management is hands-on -- he not only tells employees what to do, but helps do it, while Alice keeps books, does public relations through civic and charity activities and keeps an eye on daily operations.

Baxter to face additional charges

BY RICHARD MEEK
Former Jubilee Casino head George Baxter, already facing one count of money laundering charges, was arrested Sunday on three additional counts.

Baxter was arrested Sunday in Diamondhead and arraigned in New Orleans Monday before U.S. Magistrate Lance Africk. Baxter is free on bond.

The additional charges will not affect the original June 26 trial date, according to Assistant U.S. Attorney Steve Irwin. Irwin said, however, the charges will "alter the manner in which the evidence is presented."

He said instead of presenting evidence for only one charge, evidence must be presented to prove all four counts.

Charges against Baxter were originally laid out in a "bill of information" filed by federal prosecutors on April 4. At the time, he was charged with taking $200,000 from an undercover agent who contended the money came from the illegal sale of cocaine.

The government contends the 67-year-old Baxter laundered the money through a Jubilee Casino bank account in Biloxi. Baxter waived former indictment proceedings and pleaded not guilty.

Irwin said Wednesday he is not at liberty to say why the additional charges were added. He only said the "evidence demonstrated on four (occasions, Baxter) laundered money (obtained) from drug proceeds."

In court documents, Baxter has claimed the government "engineered and directed the criminal enterprise from start to finish." He also charged "outrageous governmental conduct" and "prosecutorial misconduct."

Repeated attempts to reach Don Rafferty, Baxter's defense counsel, were unsuccessful.

the elimination of much duplication of effort as that represented by the finance office, purchasing and other administrative services. Many such offices and services presently exist at both USM and the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

A better plan than the above one would be to combine by law the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory with the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources, which already has a director.

This has been suggested to me by many people here on the Coast.

They argue that our Department of Marine Resources, like those of many other coastal states, needs a more comprehensive marine laboratory with all programs focused on the marine and coastal environment of Mississippi and on the marine animals found here and not on those found elsewhere.

Furthermore, a similar reduction of cost through elimination of duplication of efforts could be realized as that proposed by combining Gulf Coast Research Laboratory with the University of Southern Mississippi.

The state legislature needs to make a change in the laws to accomplish one of the two alternatives outlined above, otherwise the only other feasible alternative, as proposed to me by others, would be to close the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory down and increase funding for USM's Department of Marine Science now located at Stennis Space Center.

Three different state-owned and funded marine research entities are not needed on our Coast.

The Gulf Coast Research Laboratory owns 15 acres of land that affords Belle Fontaine Beach (see Warranty Deed in Book 834, page 226-229, Jackson County Courthouse). This would make a good site for the relocation of the Marine Education Center, but it is in a waterfront residential area. For what purpose does the laboratory hold this property at Belle Fontaine Beach?

Others have pointed out that Buccaneer State Park would make an excellent place for the Marine Education Center, because it is already owned by the State of Mississippi.

This state-owned park affords a sand beach that has seagrass in the shallow waters, and there is an almost pristine tidal salt marsh bayou system located in the park. No better place for a marine education center, or for an entire marine laboratory, can be found on our entire Coast than Buccaneer State Park.

The combining of the Gulf Coast Research with the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources may very well be in the best short- and long-term interests of the citizens of Mississippi.

SSC second in stock market game

In the Mississippi Stock Market Game, a St. Stanislaus sophomore team, captained by Michael Mancuso, a president's scholar, captured second place in Mississippi and ninth overall in the four-state area of Mississippi, Louisiana, Virginia and West Virginia with an $18,000 gain in 10 weeks.

The second place finish was the highest any Gulf Coast school has recorded. Other team members were Ty McMichael, Mark Modenbach, Robbie Morrison and Joey Niolet. Michael Gemelli, Star Teacher for 1995 and math department chair at SSC, is the Stock Market Game coordinator.

The SSC team was honored at a banquet in Jackson. Team members received certificates and T-shirts from MEC who sponsored the game.

A mythical $100,000 was given to each team to invest in stocks listed on the NYSE, AMEX and Nasdaq exchanges. This spring 302 teams participated, with 42 percent of the teams in Mississippi making a profit in a rising stock market.

"This game is an effective way to teach students in principles of investing," said Gemelli. "It charges each team 2 percent on every stock they buy or sell. A few of our teams were surprised how fast their profits were diminished by broker's fees. With the junior high teams, I show them how to read the financial pages of the newspaper, and what guidelines are used in finding successful, solid companies. With the high school teams, we discuss more advanced strategies such as buying on margin and short-selling."

"A parent mentioned that he never thought he'd see the day when his son would grab the financial section of the newspaper before reading the sports section," Gemelli said.

SSC had participating teams from grades 7-12. In the 7th grade, which had six teams enter, captain Ken Harshbarger's team climbed to 10th place in the junior division.

Pearlington First Baptist shows 'Eye of the Storm'

Pastor Matt Gossett and members of First Southern Baptist Church in Pearlington invite everyone to a new film, "Eye of the Storm" Sunday, June 11 at 6:30 p.m.

"Eye of the Storm" is the new dramatic movie from World Wide Pictures starring Connie Sellecca and Jeff Conaway with Deborah Tucker.

Returning home from covering the Persian Gulf War, award-winning TV journalist Tom Edwards (Jeff Conaway), and his producer, Patricia "Pete" Peterson (Connie Sellecca) are given the task of "keeping the ratings high."

It puts them at odds, since Tom feels the best "story" is one which would trash the faith of returning servicemen and women. "The war is over, what role does God play now? Is He out in the open or has He been put back in the closet?" asks Tom in his TV interviews. "Pete" urges him to let God "speak" for Himself.

"Eye of the Storm" addresses vital, timely issues very relevant in today's society. Families will be captivated by this con-

New financial aid program sparks interest

Mississippi's new program aimed at providing tuition grants to middle-class college students has sparked a flurry of inquiries at the University of Southern Mississippi.

About 4,000 applications for the Mississippi Resident Tuition Assistance Grant program, enacted by the 1995 Legislature, have been distributed by USM in the month since Lt. Gov. Eddie Briggs came to the Hattiesburg campus to promote awareness. But only about 400 applications have been received for processing, Fairley said.

More completed applications should arrive by the July 1 deadline for application, she added.

In April Briggs called the program providing annual $1,000 and $500 tuition grants a "landmark in the history of Mississippi," noting that they don't have to be repaid and are "designed for the average Mississippians whose parents work but are not wealthy."

MTAG applicants must have lived in Mississippi at least four years and fill out a Free Application for Federal Student Aid and send it in for action by the federal government. Students denied full Pell Grant eligibility then can apply for the state grant.

MTAG applicants must have a minimum 2.5 grade-point average in high school or a minimum score of 15 on the American College Test and maintain at least a 2.5 as a full-time college student.

A companion grant, the Mississippi Eminent Scholars Grant Program offers grants of up to $2,500 a year to students who have at least a 3.5 GPA in high school, score 29 or above on the ACT or attain finalist or semifinalist status in the National Merit Scholarship Program or National Achievement Scholarship Program.

The July 1 deadline also applies for the MESG program.

For information about either program, call USM Financial Aid at 266-4774 or the Mississippi Postsecondary Education Financial Assistance Board in Jackson at 1-800-327-2980.

HANCOCK COUNTY RESIDENTS WILL NOT SEE TAX INCREASE

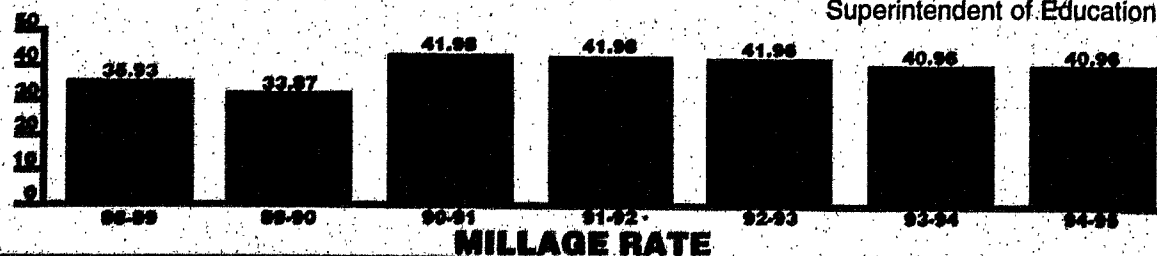

The Hancock County School District is pleased to announce that the taxpayers will not see an increase in school millage for the 1995-96 school session. In the past few years the Hancock County School District has requested in excess of one-half million dollars of ad valorem tax and gave a decrease of one mill to taxpayers two years ago because of the growth in the county. These funds have been used to employ additional employees due to the increase of over 400 additional students in the past few years, fund employee raises and fund state raise for non-minimum program teachers over the past few years. Additional ad valorem combined with gaming revenue has funded construction and renovation projects for the county schools in excess of one million dollars.

House Bill #585 became effective in 1994 and stated that all school districts who have operating millage in excess of 33.04 or who budget an increase in ad valorem tax dollars in excess of one dollar must advertise its intention to do so at the same time it advertises its intentions to formulate its budget for the forthcoming school year. The Hancock County School District has less than the 33.04 operating millage but is requesting additional ad valorem due to the growth in the county.

The Hancock County School District employs approximately 400 employees. The district has an annual payroll of approximately $9.5 million which includes salaries, social security, retirement worker's compensation and employee insurance. Payroll represents approximately 60% of the budget.

The district expects in excess of 3300 students enrolled from kindergarten through 12th grade for the 1995-96 school term.

Myrna L. Bourgeois
Superintendent of Education

NOTICE OF TAX INCREASE

The Hancock County School District has proposed to increase the part of its total budget that is attributed to an increase in ad valorem tax by two percent and/or its total budget by one half percent by certified copy of an order to be adopted by the school board of the school district to the taxing entity which is the levying authority for the school district as defined in section 37-57-1 requesting an ad valorem tax effort in dollars for the support of the school district. The proposal of the school district is to increase its ad valorem tax effort by $102,967.00 by 0 increase of millage rate and to increase its budget by $649,158.16 and with no increase of millage rate.

All concerned citizens are invited to attend a public hearing on the tax increase to be held on June 19, 1995, 4:30 at the office of the Superintendent.

A final decision on the proposed tax increase will be made on June 19, 1995, 4:30 in a public hearing to be held at the office of the Superintendent.

Campaign reports due by Saturday

The Secretary of State's Office in Jackson will be open 8 a.m.-5 p.m. on Saturday, June 10, to receive campaign spending and contributions reports, said Reese Partridge, staff attorney for the Elections Division.

The campaign finance reports, required by state law, are due for contributions and spending through June 1 for all candidates in the 1995 elections, as well as political committees, according to the Secretary of State's Office.

Statewide candidates, multi-county candidates, and all legislative candidates must file reports with the Secretary of State, whose office is located at 401 Mississippi Street, near the State Capitol. All county candidates file their reports with the circuit clerk. Partridge said he has no information about whether circuit clerks' offices will be open on June 10.

Voter registration

If you want to vote in the August primaries, but you aren't registered, July 8 is the last day you can be registered in the circuit clerk's office, which usually is located in the county courthouse.

During the week of July 3-7, circuit clerks must keep their offices open from 8 a.m.-7 p.m. for voter registration. On Saturday, July 8, the offices will close at noon.

July 8 is also the last day for agencies and drivers' license examining stations to accept voter registration applications for the primaries.

July 9 is the postmark deadline for mail-in voter registration applications for the primaries.

Absentee voting

Persons eligible to vote absentee in the Aug. 8 primary should begin checking with their circuit clerk for ballots after June 24.

Voters who cannot get to the polls because of work, health, military or travel reasons, may be eligible to vote absentee, according to the Secretary of State's Office.

"If you want to know if you can vote absentee, check with your county circuit clerk," said Reese Partridge, senior attorney with the Secretary of State's Elections Division.

Markers for county routes

Transportation Commissioner Ronnie Shows announced a contract was awarded for the installation of High Performance Raised Pavement Markers on various routes throughout Mississippi Department of Transportation's Sixth District. Counties included are Jasper, Clarke, Jones, Wayne, Lamar, Forrest, Perry, Greene, Pearl River, Stone, George, Hancock, Harrison and Jackson.

Marcato & Son Inc. of Montgomery, Ala. was awarded the project with a low bid of $263,135.

Shows said the main reason for the installation of the new markers is to increase safety. The new markers have a greater reflective quality than the markers presently being used, so motorists will be able to see them better at night.

He said the work will be done under traffic, and motorists may encounter lane closures.

The commissioner urges motorists to observe all highway construction advisory signs while driving through the project.

The contract completion date is March 1996.

Kiln man attends training

Michael Favre of Kiln has completed a Mississippi Polymer Institute training session designed to sharpen technical skills.

Favre, a director of operations at Ter Chemicals Inc., was among 17 employees of polymer-related industries who attended the May training session in Ridgeland.

The "short course" was the sixth joint venture of the Mississippi Polymer Institute at the University of Southern Mississippi and Holmes Community College.

The training session was created by the USM-based institute, which got its start-up funding from the 1993 Legislature. The institute works to provide educational, technical and marketing assistance to Mississippi's more than 300 polymer-related industries.

STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN

School's out! It's that time of year again when children are out of school and playing in the community. Be on the lookout and drive carefully, mind the speed limits and teach your children to play safely.

Most of our neutral grounds have lovely flower beds, trees and shrubs (most planted by residents), so please cross over at appropriate places.

BOWLING ANYONE?

"Park Ten Lanes" is now open in Diamondhead. Bowling is family fun, so sign up now for summer leagues. Please call 255-9973 for information.

DON'T FORGET

Hancock County will have the largest ever Flag Day ceremony Saturday, June 10 at 10 a.m. at the walking trail in front of Hancock Medical Center.

All 50 of the state flags, along with the District of Columbia, are now flying along Hwy. 90 as part of the celebration. Quite a sight to see.

BUSY LIONS

The Diamondhead Lions Club is helping support the "Gaits to Success," a program for children with physical and emotional needs. Anyone interested in helping, please contact Barbara Kaiser at 255-5546.

They remind everyone that the drop-off boxes for old eyeglasses is at Diamondhead Super Market and LL Ltd.

The club is still selling cookbooks. To get yours, call Betty Peters at 255-3753. All of the club's monetary commitments have been met to date.

The Diamondhead Lions meet on the first and third Tuesdays of the month at 7 p.m. at the community center. All are welcome to join.

JUNE MEETING

For the Diamondhead Square and Compass Club's Master Masons, their spouses and guests, there will be a buffet luncheon ($3.75 per person) and an afternoon of fun at Casino Magic at noon on Wednesday, June 14.

Advance reservations are in order to Jerry Reshew at 255-1747 before June 12. No transportation is planned, so that you can have a completely flexible afternoon schedule.

THOUGHTS TO SHARE

Happiness does not depend on money or leisure, or society, or even on health; it depends on our relations to those we love.

Love one another and have a wonderful week.

HOW TO WRITE AN OBITUARY FOR YOUR TEENAGER.

YOU sit and watch your child sleep. The hospital intercom serves as a constant reminder of where you are. You tuck in the blanket around his feet. He hasn't moved since you last tucked it in, but it gives you something to do. It's been two days since your child's friends carried him into the emergency room. The doctor says it's a losing battle. You're not ready for that.

* LISTING THE cause of death in the obituary is at the family's discretion.

When the hospital called, you thought it was a minor cut, another broken collarbone. The hospital nurse mentioned inhalants. That was a mistake, you thought. But you soon learned "sniffing" — inhaling household products to get high — was not a mistake. It was a habit. A habit that could've started with over 100 ordinary, everyday products like markers, correction fluid and spray paint. A habit that makes paraphernalia out of socks, soda cans, lunch bags. A habit that can damage the brain, heart, kidneys, liver. A habit that can even kill the very first time. You stare at your child, and wonder if maybe that wouldn't have been better.

* IT IS APPROPRIATE to include the child's nickname if well-known.

It's been 16 hours since your child was pronounced dead. The relatives you phoned didn't know about inhalants. It seems no one did. You haven't slept in two days but somehow, you keep going. Because you have a funeral to arrange. And people to console. And someone from the obituary section is on the phone. They need to know about the child you just lost.

* FAMILIES WILL often prefer to have the funeral home handle the obituary.

Could this be your child? We hope not. But inhalant abuse is on the rise. For more information about sniffing, please call 1-800-729-6686. There are signs to look for. You just need to know what they are.

IF YOU DON'T WANT TO LEARN ABOUT OBITUARIES. PLEASE LEARN ABOUT SNIFFING. CALL 800-729-6686.

The drawing takes place on Father's Day, June 18, at 8 p.m., and winners must be present to win. Entry forms are available at the casino's slot club located on the first floor.

Additional drawings for rods and reels, tackle boxes and custom fishing lures will take place very half hour after the charter boat drawing until supplies run out.

Allen Fontenot and The Country Cajuns will perform on Saturday, June 10, from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. on the second floor of the casino. Admission is free.

Copa Casino

New games added

Copa Casino continues to be a leader in keeping up with the latest trends and new products in gaming entertainment, most recently with the addition of Bally Game Maker slot machines and Let It Ride. Game Maker is a revolutionary new video interactive slot machine which offers up to ten different slot games choices from one machine.

Copa has opted to include five simulated reel games, two video poker and one keno selection on their models including Blazing 7's, Draw Poker, Double and Triple Trouble, Four Play Poker, Double Bonus Poker, White Lightning and the Keno game.

Two $1,000 jackpots have already been won on the new games since their installation May 24.

With the success of recently added table game features, Surrender and Bonus BJ leading the way, Let It Ride will be tested for its appeal as a new card game at the Copa.

Let It Ride is the newest card game in the industry and has become so popular in the Nevada market that one group of casinos has established a $1.5 million tournament in which even a novice player could walk away with a grand prize of $1,000,000. There are currently 125 Let It Ride table games in more than 90 casinos in Nevada since the game's inception in 1993.

The game itself is based on Five-Card Stud Poker. Similar to the Blackjack Surrender feature, Let It Ride allows the player to take back two-thirds of their bet if they don't like the cards they receive. The player may take back half of their bet when opting to Surrender under the same circumstances at Blackjack. However, unlike Blackjack or traditional Poker, the object of Let It Ride is to play their best poker hand against a fixed payout schedule, not against the dealer or the other players at the table.

Beach

But not all were so attending. An attorney representing opposition to the Bay St. Louis project promised a court battle before the first shovel of sand will be turned. And opponents in Waveland have already vowed legal opposition.

"(Before the county) can do anything, there is a legal question whether you can," Henry Laird, a Gulfport attorney who is representing a group of Bay St. Louis residents, told the board.

The heated issue, which has ough said, "I am sure the master plan was well-intentioned, but it was in the early '80s. We are talking about values. We are giving up values for tax dollars."

Hansborough said "family units coming to the beach" would be sacrificed by construction of the parking lot.

One Waveland resident told the board "we all have the wrong attitude."

"We all want to develop the beach for our community," she said. "But we are developing the beach for New Orleans people.

"Is this parking lot going to be where our kids hang out and smoke dope?"

Another Waveland resident said after the parking lot is constructed, "the next thing you know, gangs are here."

He said that's a "confrontation we don't need."

Mason countered by asking, "what about the local citizens?"

"There is no place to park or go to the bathroom," he said. "You can't say certain people can't come on the beach."

Supervisor Robert Peterson added that the board will be building an $800,000 bike and walking path along the beach but "there is no place to park for people who want to use it."

Following the sometimes emotional debate, the board unanimously voted to proceed with both projects. It is uncertain whether the past couple of months, finally came to a head at the meeting when opposition from both cities addressed the supervisors.

Laird told the board his clients are "concerned over the quality of life" the parking lot may bring.

"They want to know what is planned for their front yard," he said. "We want to be able to take part in the decision-making process. We would like to address noise, water and visual pollution, security, lighting, erosion, a buffer zone and the effects of a storm surge."

"We are not here to take on anybody," he said. "We ask you today to not allow construction until the law is complied with."

Laird alluded to possible zoning restrictions and the issuance of construction permits. However, Bay Planning Director Les Fillingame said the city "has been involved with the process" and that the project "meets all guidelines. Bay St. Louis permits will not be a problem."

Boomboxes took center stage when Waveland resident John Hansborough addressed the board. He acknowledged that Waveland had devised a master plan in 1983 that called for an 80-plus space parking lot to be constructed when monies were available.

However, he said that plan should be scrapped because at that time, "we did not have boomboxes and rap music."

"What about families being subject to this music, (which uses obscenities) and messages about killing cops," Hansbor-tain when construction will begin, although officials hope that at least the Bay project will be completed sometime during the summer.

In other matters Monday, the board voted:

— Extend a requirement Hancock County residents must have a sewage disposal plan approved by the health department before constructing homes in low-lying areas. Permits will not be issued until plans are approved.

A state law requiring sewage plans expire July 1. The state legislature is expected to take up the matter in its next session.

"We are losing tax base because people can't build homes," Board President Mike Ladner said.

— Agreed to lend $19,000 to Hancock County Wastewater District 1. The loan will be used for a survey that will eventually culminate in an expansion that would include all of the Shoreline Park subdivision in the water district.

— Tabled a proposed comprehensive zoning ordinance for the county.

"A lot of studying must be done before anything is accepted," Ladner said.

Board attorney Gerald Gex said a "number of public hearings, probably from 10 to 15, must be held. I don't envision it to be adopted in the near future."

Gex also pointed out that with three of the five supervisors not seeking re-election, acceptance of any plan before 1996 is unlikely.

Steve Lady to be 'right there' in hotel project

BY MARY G. SEILEY

The last time the Waveland Resort Inn had a major overhaul, Steve Lady was in on the deal, literally.

While there were contractors hired to do the work, Steve Lady pitched in on much of the actual labor, says his brother, Bill, because Steve likes the design and construction end of things.

This time around, Steve will be on hand to watch from a wheel chair -- but his family is thankful. He was critically injured in a boating accident last month, losing a leg and incurring other severe injuries.

Bill Lady said Wednesday his brother's recovery has been so rapid and remarkable that he was able to skip a major surgery last week. He showed up in front of the hospital in a wheelchair to greet Bill one day this week.

Steve is expected to be released from the hospital Friday, undergo a couple of months' recovery at home, and then begin therapy, which will enable him to walk again.

"This time, he won't be able to help with the building -- but he'll be right there, supervising," said his brother.

Construction to convert the Waveland Resort Inn into a Holiday Inn is expected to begin in early July, with a completion date in late October.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

Sour Cream Pie

That old-fashioned, time-tested Southern favorite, Sour Cream Pie, raisin-studded and spice-accented, is one of our family's well-liked pies. I had lost my copy of the generations-old family recipe some years ago, and couldn't remember just how to make it.

After my younger sister found her copy of the recipe for me, I happily started making sour cream pies once more. Here's:

JANET DALY'S SOUR CREAM PIE

- 1 pie shell, baked
- 1 1/2 cups commercial sour cream
- 2 egg yolks (reserve whites for meringue)
- 1/4 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. cloves
- 1/4 tsp. nutmeg
- 2 Tbsp. flour
- 1/2 cup chopped raisins
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- The reserved egg whites (see above note)

In earlier times the cook, of course, had to sour her own cream; these days, cooks skip that stage with the excellent sour cream available in the marketplace. Incidentally, I have had success using some of the "light" sour cream with the "regular" sour cream, but wouldn't advise your substituting the fat-free version, which I don't like at all.

Scald one cup of the sour cream lightly in a double boiler (or improvise by setting a bowl or pot inside a larger pot). Next, mix together the egg yolks, sugar, spices, flour and remaining 1/2 cup of sour cream, and add slowly to the hot mixture.

Cook slowly for 15 minutes, then add the raisins and vanilla.

When partly cooled, pour into the baked pie crust, your own or ready-made. Cover with meringue made from the stiffly beaten egg whites and sugar, and brown meringue lightly in a moderate oven.

or three per weekend," according to the airport director.

"We have a lot riding on this," Stovall said. "If (the Magic) terminates its air program, it would have a dramatic impact."

He said "layoffs could be a possibility but we don't expect any."

Currently, the airport employs 15 employees.

Stovall said the long-range impact may be most destructive. He said the airport is currently under consideration for full certification, or the obtaining of "139 status" by the FAA, which would open it up to commercial airlines. But, he said, without the charter flights, "139 status won't be approved."

Stovall said the airport has made a mistake by "having all of our eggs in one basket."

"We are staying busy trying to create additional sources of income," he said. "We are hoping to open the westside for cargo use."

Stovall said he did not receive any sort of formal notification of the Express One grounding. He did say he is working closely with Magic officials "to help them locate additional carriers."

The airport can stand on its own, without the charter business, Stovall said.

"This is still an airport with a lot of potential," he said.

Jubilee

"Many players don't want to be dictated by starting and stopping times."

Kingsbury said he considers the Jubilee's charter flights, which may carry anywhere from 35 passengers up to 200, "icing on the cake."

"We want to be like (the popular television series Cheers)," he said. "We want to know you by name and treat you like family."

"We are working real hard on this."

The casino chief said the Jubilee is "selective with bus operators" and tour operators. He said the "operators must satisfy us."

"We will only pay so much (per head count) and no more," he said.

"So far, what we have been doing has been successful," Kingsbury said.

He said last weekend was "one of the biggest yet," and said last Sunday was a bigger payday than the Sunday preceding Memorial Day, traditionally one of the casino's largest takes.

Davis, Davis and Davis at Sun Coast

A bizarre set of circumstances in the Late Model Sportsman division enabled the Davis family to claim the top three spots in the feature race.

Make Ladner, who had been fast qualifier the two previous weeks, went to the trailer on his second qualifying lap with major mechanical problems to the drive train of this car.

Heat winner Billy Joe Schenewitz, who has been timing in alongside Ladner as of late also developed mechanical problems and was unable to make the feature.

The feature lineup saw K. I. Davis and Marty Broadus sharing the front row as the green flag dropped. Davis moved to the front, while second row starter Mitchell Williams moved into second. Kent Davis Jr. also got by Broadus, where he was able to challenge Williams for the second spot.

Williams developed mechanical problems and was forced to the pits. Broadus got a little out of shape allowing Ben Davis to move into the third spot behind his father Kent. Neither Kent nor Ben were able to challenge K. I. the III for the lead as he claimed his 13th feature win of the season.

Kalif Sellier not only won his first Four Cylinder Modified feature, but he also won the heat race as well. In feature action Sellier was able to move past Marcus Jacobs and David Nécaise after some three wide-wheel to wheel racing. Jacobs was able to hold on to the second spot while Jimmy Nécaise worked his way into third.

Vernon Powell selected athletic director

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Department of Marine Resources wants to reduce the limit on speckled trout from 25 fish per day to 10 fish per day for recreational fishermen. At the same time that DMR wants to decrease the daily limits on recreational fishermen they want to increase the areas and times that commercial fishermen can catch speckled trout. Commercial fishermen have no limit on the number of speckled trout they can catch.

Fishin' buddies, this time the Turtle is not joking. The Department of Marine Resources will hold a public hearing on proposed Ordinance 7.017 (I) at the Scott Marine Education Center Monday, June 12 at 7 p.m. The Scott Marine Education Center is located in Point Cadet right next to the Isle of Capri Casino.

The hearing on proposed Ordinance 7.007 (I) will be for the purpose of decreasing the proposed bag limit on speckled trout from 25 per day to 10 per day per recreational fisherman. The ordinance additionally will eliminate the provision for five undersize trout.

Ordinance 5.011 (I) will open the island of Cat, Deer and Round to year-round commercial fishing.

Ordinance 2.010 (I) will eliminate recreational shrimp trawling from the area around Petit Bois, Horn and Ship islands to distance of one mile from shore.

It looks like the Department of Marine Resources has declared open season on recreational fishermen.

The American Sportfisherman Institute estimates there are about 90,000 to 100,000 saltwater recreational fishermen in the state of Mississippi. There are about 200 commercial gill net fishing licenses issued in the state of Mississippi.

In the next few weeks you will probably see all kinds of numbers and statistics thrown about, but two facts will still remain: 90,000 to 100,000 recreational fishermen catch about 100,000 pounds of trout annually, or about one pound per person per year; according to a 1993 report by the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Two hundred Mississippi commercial fishermen catch about 50,000 pounds of trout annually, or about 250 pounds per person per year. The value of the recreational fishing industry to the state of Mississippi is said to be in excess of $400 million per year. NMFS reported for 1993 that the total of all commercial fishing in the state of Mississippi, including oysters and shrimp, is about $29.4 million per year. $400 million puts a lot more people to work than $29.4 million.

When you compare the economic contribution of recreational fishermen to commercial trout fishermen, the difference in the number of people that recreational fishermen put to work compared to commercial trout fishermen is so great as to be almost inconceivable.

Anyway, why the sudden request for a reduction in the recreational limits of speckled trout? According to Fred Deegen of DMR, there is a 15-year study that was conducted in part by BMR, which shows the population of speckled trout is in serious decline. It is strange that this study should suddenly surface after the gill net hearings have concluded.

It is stranger still that Tom

Van Devender, the previous Chief of Saltwater Fisheries at BMR and DMR, stated emphatically at public hearings and before political bodies that the population of trout and other fish were not in decline but were very healthy, and as a result, there should be no restrictions on commercial fishermen or gill nets.

It is strange that all these new restrictions on recreational fishermen should come only a short time after Commissioner Vernon Asper of Diamondhead gutted the proposed restrictions on gill nets.

It is interesting to note that Commissioner Asper is supposed to be the ecology commissioner and represent the interests of ecological groups. I wonder why all the major ecology groups opposed his confirmation by the Senate?

If there is a legitimate biological reason why the creel limit of speckled trout should be reduced, then by all means recreational fishermen should go along with some reduction.

If there is, in fact, legitimate biological data showing the speckled trout population is declining, then it is only logical that the population cannot sustain commercial fishing, and commercial fishing for speckled trout should be stopped at once.

If there is legitimate biological data showing a decline in the trout population, why does DMR want to pass Ordinance 5.011 which will open up the island breeding grounds of speckled trout to year-round commercial fishing?

It is hard to imagine why DMR is so self-destructive. The license fees for the saltwater fishing license go directly to DMR for such things as better enforcement of fishing laws. It is a lead pipe cinch that if DMR succeeds in making the number one sought after fish of saltwater anglers, speckled trout, unavailable to recreational fishermen, that license sales will drop off.

The resultant decrease in funds for law enforcement will mean a gold mine for outlaw fishermen. Boy, are the outlaws gonna love that situation.

The Turtle is making an appeal for anyone interested in the future of recreational saltwater fishing to mark your calendar to be at Scott Marine Education Center Monday, June 12 at 7 p.m.

This week's wonderful wise words: What a mess! Governor Fordice needs to know about this mess.

Does DMR really want to ban recreational fishermen, Turtle?

Pass receives grant

The Mississippi Department of Marine Resources awarded $51,050 in grant monies to coastal marinas for the construction of marine pump-out facilities to remove sanitary waste from holding tanks on boats.

Library scholarship awarded

A Pass Christian High School senior has been awarded a $500 scholarship for tuition at the college of her choice by the Friends Group of the Pass Christian Public Library.

Maira A. Hoang received the Friends Scholar '95 award at recent ceremonies.

The annual award was made to Hoang for her excellent grades and school service.

The award is given annually by the Friends Group, said Judy Holder, president of the library support organization.

A proposed ordinance to prohibit recreational shrimp trawling within one nautical mile of the shorelines of Petit Bois, Horn and Ship islands will also be discussed.

Grants were awarded to the cities of Long Beach, Pass Christian and Ocean Springs and to two inland marinas located on the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway, according to Jerry E. Mitchell, DMR's chief of planning and policy.

These funds were provided by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service as authorized by the Clean Vessel Act, and were matched by local contributions of $20,266 cash or in-kind services form each awardee, Mitchell said.

Teacher workshop focuses on Southern culture

The South has placed an indelible stamp on American culture through music, literature, art, architecture and history. For today's high school students, learning about the origins and value of such influences provides a road map to understand their roots and navigate the future.

With funds provided by the International House of Blues Foundation, the University of Mississippi is sponsoring a new annual summer institute July 16-23 to help teachers from across the country open students' eyes to the South's cultural contributions, as well as the importance of understanding regional identity.

"The Foundation directors feel that this workshop is a wonderful way to create 'missionaries' in the form of public school teachers who will learn to communicate the International House of Blues Foundation message to school children. The Foundation has a long-standing relationship with Professor William Ferris (director of the Center for the Study of Southern Culture) at Ole Miss, and we are delighted to provide $50,000 seed money for the teachers' program," said Mark Princi, Foundation director.

Organized by Ole Miss' Center for the Study of Southern Culture and Center for Public Service and Continuing Studies, the institute will serve up a rich menu of material ranging from history to Southern literature, folk art and the blues.

Taught by faculty from the Center for the Study of Southern Culture, the week-long program on the Oxford campus will examine the myths and reality of the region through art, music, literature and history, as well as its impact on national culture.

Participants also will tour historical and cultural sites in Memphis, Tenn., and the Mississippi Delta, including the National Civil Rights Museum, Beale Street and the Clarksdale Blues Museum.

The teachers won't just study Southern culture. They'll be able to take back to their classrooms cultural examples that students can see, hear and read. A grant to the Center for the Study of Southern Culture from the Phil Hardin Foundation in Meridian will provide participants with resource materials including the "Encyclopedia of Southern Culture," edited by Center faculty Ferris and Dr. Charles Reagan Wilson.

The materials include a set of blues music cassette tapes compiled by Malaco Recording Studios in Jackson, Dorothy Abbot's five-volume anthology "Mississippi Writers: Reflections of Childhood and Youth" and its accompanying teacher's guide, and "Ethnic Heritage in Mississippi" edited by Barbara Carpenter.

In addition, grants are available from local arts agencies through the Mississippi Arts Council to assist Mississippi public school teachers with tuition. The charge for the program is $370.

The International House of Blues Foundation is a public educational charity dedicated to promoting racial harmony and multicultural awareness among primary and secondary school students.

For more information about these programs, call Marcie Ferris at (601) 232-7282.

MEC survey pinpoints significant obstacles to improved education

Mississippi's public school classrooms are awash in red tape and paperwork, and teachers don't have time to teach anymore.

And, in the time they do have for teaching, they are often having to deal with students who are poorly prepared at home for school and for learning.

Bureaucratic bungling and poor preparation of students are among the major barriers to improved education in the state's public schools.

These barriers have led to the discouragement and demoralization of many of the state's finest teachers.

That's the report from Mississippi's best and brightest teachers to the Mississippi Economic Council.

Earlier this year the Council invited its STAR Teachers to identify barriers to the improvement of education in the state's public schools.

Results of the survey are being circulated to education and other governmental leaders by the Council.

The survey was conducted as a part of MEC's Student Teacher Achievement Recognition program. The program provides scholarship awards and other honors to the state's outstanding high school seniors and teachers the students selected as Star Teachers — teachers who have contributed significantly to the students' educational achievement.

Some 900 Star Teachers throughout the state, representing Star Teacher selections from the past three years, were invited to take part in the survey.

In addition, members of MEC's Star Teacher Hall of Fame — teachers named Star Teacher by students at least 10 times — were included in the survey.

Council Chairman Steve McMahon of Jackson said MEC conducted the survey in an attempt to identify problems being faced by teachers in the classrooms.

"In Mississippi," he said, "it seems that we have asked everyone else for an opinion on education. We thought it was time we asked those in the front lines of education — the teachers."

"Now," said McMahon, "MEC will consider steps it can take to respond to the teachers' call for help."

The MEC chairman said the report also noted that in the dozen years since Mississippi's sweeping education reforms, improvements in student achievement, as evidenced by test scores, are disappointing.

In the survey, Star teachers identified these barriers to improved education:

- Lack of interest in students from parents
- Lack of discipline among students
- Inadequate compensation for teachers
- Lack of resource materials in the classroom
- Inadequate school facilities
- Lack of contact time with students
- Lack of support from the school administrations
- Lack of support from the school boards
- Lack of support and bureaucratic interference from the State Department of Education.

Fifty-three percent of the teachers responding to the survey said teacher morale is worse now than it was 10 years ago, and 82 percent said morale is average to very poor among teachers today.

Von Antz wins foreign language scholarship

Jennifer Marie Von Antz, an honor graduate of Bay Senior High School, has been awarded the 1995 Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship. The $1,000 scholarship, given annually, may be used at any college or university of her choice.

Von Antz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Von Antz of Bay St. Louis, plans to attend the University of South Alabama and major in chemical engineering and minor in French.

"By every standard, Jennifer is one of the most outstanding students at Bay High," said Gloria Dean, counselor. "She ranks third in a class of 113... (and) her interest in making full use of her intellectual potential is remarkable."

Voted Most Likely to Succeed by her classmates, Von Antz is the winner of the United States Achievement Academy's Foreign Language Award, National Science and Merit Award, National Mathematics Award, and National Leadership and Service Award and was chosen a United States Achievement Academy All American Scholar.

In addition she is the winner of the French III Award, the Advanced Chemistry Award, the Advanced Math Award and the History Award.

Von Antz has been named to the National Honor Society and Who's Who Among American High School Students, and she has made the Alpha Honor Roll every year of her high school career.

She placed third in Mississippi in Level 3 of the rigorous National French Exam and sixth in Mississippi in Level 4. In addition she has received awards in foreign language fairs in extemporaneous prose and in recitation.

In 1993 she attended the National Young Leaders Conference in Washington D.C. The following year she hosted an exchange student from Carentan, France; and in the summer of 1994 she traveled in France with her exchange student's family.

"Jennifer's leadership qualities include an awareness of and compassion for her fellow man," said her French teacher, Kathryn C. Mac Dowell. "For the past two summers she has traveled to Saltillo, Mexico, in order to deliver basic necessities to the impoverished living in the ranchos and barrios."

Von Antz is a member of numerous student organizations, including Le Cercle Francis (of which is president), SADD, CYO, YMCA Youth Government, Youth to Youth and the Business Club.

She is also a member of the tennis and softball teams and has served as sports editor/photographer on the student newspaper staff. She is a member of the Princess Shoppe Teen Board and has been named Pepsi Student of the Month.

The Emily de Montluzin Foreign Language Scholarship Fund is a non-profit, tax-exempt fund. It is administered by a board of 11 members
